11/29/2005	●	Judge Reginald C. Lindsay : Electronic ORDER DISMISSING CASE. On October 24, 2005, the court entered a conditional order dismissing the petition in this case pursuant to the respondent's motion, which asserted that the petitioner had not exhausted his state remedies before bringing the petition. In the memorandum accompanying the conditional order dismissing the petition, the court ruled that certain of the petitioner's claims had been exhausted, while others had not been exhausted. The court's order directed the petitioner to advise the court, not later than 30 days from the date of the order, whether the petitioner would proceed in the present case with his exhausted claims. In its order the court said: "At the conclusion of the thirty (30) days, unless this court has been advised of Petitioner's intention to proceed with his exhausted claims, this conditional order of dismissal will become final." To date, which is more than 30 days from the date of the conditional order, the petitioner has not advised the court whether he intends to proceed here with his exhausted claims. Accordingly, the conditional order of October 24, 2005 is hereby made final. The clerk shall enter judgment for the respondent and terminate this case on the court's docket.
